Allowance were to be allowed to him. The allowance if it were to be deputation allowance it has to be governed by Govt. order Dy 17th march 50. reducing the allowance from 1/5 to 1/10 of Salary. It may be pointed out that on foreign occasion no fixed percentage of the pay was granted as allowance but it differed from individual to individual. eg. Srs. Mallikarjuna, Shankaran Nair, S.G. Narasimhiah were granted Rs 100/- while Srs. Annappa and Narayanswamy were given Rs 60/- P.M and Rs 125/- P.M - inclusive of C.A. of Rs 25/- P.M in the latter case.

5) The amount of allowance that may be granted, if it could be granted, is for orders with financial Concurrence.

HPA 23/11/50.

6) If it is proposed to grant the same allowance of Rs. 100/- p.m. as on previous occasions - for the periods mentioned at para 1, it may be necessary to call it merely an "allowance" as deputation (duty) Allce. - the term used on previous occasions - is to be regulated in accordance with G.O. Dy 17.3.50, and any departure from the provisions of that G.O. may be

7) The Birthday Durbars were Cancelled on the eve of the Birthday, and although this should have meant some reduction of the normal special duty the preliminary work Connected with the Birthday festivities should perhaps have been attended to in just the same way as on previous occasions.

8) The Officer is in receipt of a Duty allce. of Rs. 50/- and a Conveyance allce. of Rs. 35. The payment of the latter allce. during the period of special duty has been objected to in audit, but financial concurrence has been secured to authorise its payment, and the matter is being dealt with separately.

9) The usual allowance requested by the Officer is in addition to the allowances drawn by the Officer as Registrar and without any claim, it is understood, to the daily allowance admissible for halts at Mysore.

10) Consultation with F/S is necessary.

4.12.50 22) The Registrar General & Revenue Secretariat is generally placed on Special Duty in connection with the Birthday or Dasara Festivities or with the meetings of the Legislative Assembly at Mysore. He is provided with means of conveyance at the cost of Government - either a staff car is placed at his disposal for which the Driver, petrol, oil etc., are provided at the expense of Government/ or a conveyance is hired at the expense of Govt. The period of Special Duty at Mysore generally lasts for about one and half months at a time. For the days of halt at Mysore he is permitted to draw Daily Allowance at the rate of Rs.5-5-4, in this case, this would normally come to about Rs.160/- per month. Though absent from Head Quarters and detached from the duties attached to the post of the Registrar, he is permitted to draw the conveyance allowance of Rs.35/- attached to the post, presumably because the period of his absence from Head Quarters is of short duration during which the Officer is obliged to maintain the conveyance. The duties of the Registrar are distributed among other Assistant Secretaries to Government who are not allowed any extra remuneration for the additional duties so devolved on them.

23) Briefly, the Officer on Special Duty draws the conveyance allowance attached to the post of Registrar besides daily allowance and Travelling Allowance admissible under the rules, in addition to his being provided with a conveyance at the expense of Government. These are sufficient recompense to an officer who is exclusively placed on Special Duty without being burdened with his normal normal duties. Whatever might have been the justification for the grant of any additional allowance to the Officer in the past, I think that it is time enough to put an end to the grant of such allowance to one who is sufficiently recompensed. The remuneration to the Officers should be commensurate with the work the Officers are called upon to discharge.
